ABSTRACT

This statistical abstract of the adult education delivery system includes the following: an introductory section on the history and basic grant program of the state-administered adult education program; a chapter on trends in adult education (enrollment, program finance, and personnel); and a chapter on program year 1990-1991 (enrollment, participant characteristics, retention and educational and personal progress, program sites, personnel in adult education, and expenditures). Seven tables and 15 figures are included. Appended are tables detailing 1991 statistical data regarding state-administered adult education program enrollment by region and age, program personnel, and participant progress and separation. Highlights of the report are as follows: (1) since 1980, enrollment in adult education has doubled to approximately 3.7 million; (2) English as a Second Language is the fastest-growing instructional area; (3) although both federal and state funding of adult education have increased significantly during the past decade, the adult education delivery system has increased its reliance on part-time instructors; (4) minorities account for two-thirds of adult education enrollment; (5) 83% of adult education participants are between the ages of 16 and 44 years; and (6) the program retention rate is 74%. LITERACY IN THE UNITED STATES

- o Of U.S. adults 16 years and older 45.4 million are not enrolled in school and do not have a high school diploma or its equivalent. This represents about 23.7% of the total population age 16 and above.
- o Of the nation's total population, 25 years and older, 10% (or 16.5 million people) have less than a ninth-grade education.
- o In the 1990-91 school year 348,000 students, or 4% of the total high school enrollment, dropped out of school. The nation's overall high school dropout rate is 4%.
- o Dropouts constitute approximately 62% of the nation's prison population, representing almost 280,000 inmates.
- o Approximately 3.8 million adults are currently served by the literacy and adult education programs available Nationwide.
- o One out of five (20 %) of young adults read with skills below that of typical 8th graders.
- o In 1991, 12.5 percent of 16- through 24-year olds, about 3.9 million persons, had not completed high school and were not currently enrolled in school.

INTRODUCTION

HISTORY

The adult basic and secondary education program administered by the U.S. Department of Education was established under the Adult Education Act (AEA) of 1966.

Over the past 26 years the AEA has been a major Federal resource for providing educationally disadvantaged adults with the opportunity to reach their full potential as individuals, citizens and workers.

The basic purpose of the AEA, which has remained relatively unchanged since 1970, is to improve educational opportunities for adults and to encourage the establishment of adult education programs that will:

- enable adult learners to acquire the basic educational skills necessary for literate functioning;
- provide adults with sufficient basic education to benefit from job training and retraining programs; and
- enable adults who so desire to continue their education to at least the level of completion of secondary school.

Over its 26-year history, adult education has matured as a movement and as a profession. In the last decade, heightened public awareness of widespread deficiencies in basic skills among adults has fueled the momentum to increase the availability of quality instruction for adults. Over 2800 local education and literacy programs are funded under the AEA. These programs support more than 24,000 adult education learning sites.

BASIC GRANT PROGRAM

The major source of Federal support for basic skills programs under the AEA is the State-administered Basic Grant Program. Basic Grants to States are allocated by formula based upon the number of adults, over the age of compulsory school attendance, who have not completed high school in each State.

The State-administered Basic Grant Program is a Federal/State partnership. In 1992-93, States are required to fund 25 percent of total program expenditures. Many States already exceed this requirement which is reflected in the current Federal to non-Federal expenditure ratio of 1:4.

Each of the 50 States, the District of Columbia, and five outlying areas has established and operates adult basic and secondary education programs, funded in part by the AEA.

States distribute funds to local providers through a competitive process based upon State-established funding criteria. These include local education agencies, community college, community-based organizations, literacy volunteer organizations, libraries, correctional institutions and other nonprofit organizations and agencies. Local programs of instruction emphasize the acquisition of basic skills - reading, writing, computation, communication and problem solving. Courses of instruction include Adult Basic Education (ABE), Adult Secondary Education (ASE), and English as a Second Language (ESL).

ANNUAL REPORTS

The information used in this report comes directly from the annual reports on adult education activities submitted to the Department of Education by each State, the District of Columbia and participating outlying areas.

The graphs, charts, and tables in the report summarize data on enrollments, student characteristics, educational progress, completions and separations, class sites, staff and fiscal expenditures. In addition to summarizing information from the 1990-91 program year, this report presents comparative information over the past decade.

HIGHLIGHTS

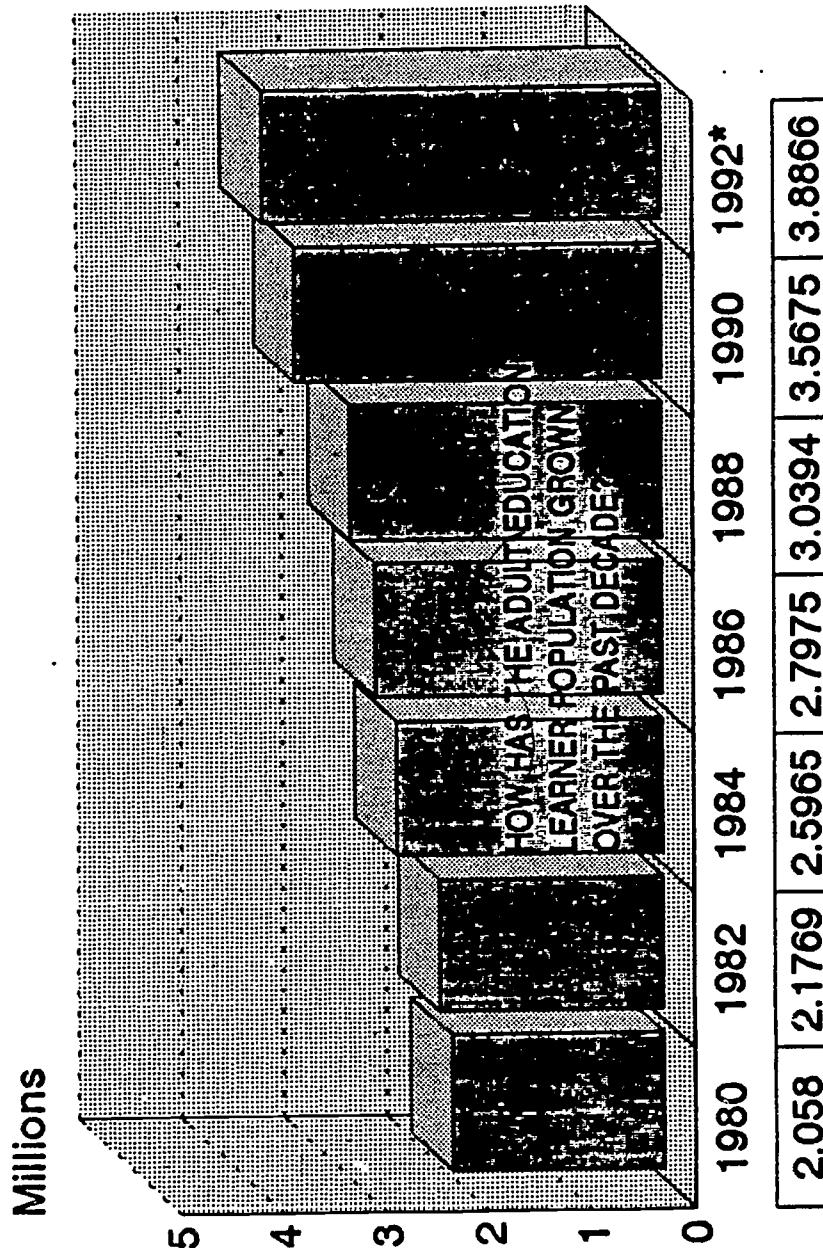

- Since 1980, enrollment in adult education has doubled.
- English as a second language is fastest growing instructional area.
- Significant increase in Federal and State funding over the past decade.
- Delivery system depends on part-time instructors.

Since 1980, the number of adults enrolled in adult education has nearly doubled

18

* Estimate
Figure 1

Since 1980, there has been an 87 percent increase in the number of adult learners enrolled in adult education programs, from 2 million in 1980 to over 3.8 million in 1992. Table 1 shows a consistent and steady increase in enrollment between 1987 and 1992, averaging 5.4 percent a year. This consistent rise in enrollment reflects the impact of a 4-year national public awareness campaign, Project PLUS, and increased participation of non-English speaking adult learners. The double digit increase for 1985, 1983 and 1980 primarily reflect changes in reporting practices by participating States.

How has composition changed for--
Adult Basic Education (ABE)

Adult Secondary Education (ASE)?

Figure 2 shows that the enrollment of native speaking adults in basic skills instruction (ABE, non ESL) increased slightly between 1980 and 1991. By contrast, English as a Second Langauge (ESL) enrollment increased from 396 thousand in 1980 to over 1.1 million adults in 1991, an increase of 199 percent.

TRENDS
SPENDING

Figure 3 shows that State and local support for adult education has jumped from 43% to 74% of total $74 million to $637 million. Total expenditure rose from $174 million to $893 million. Since 1985, States have, on average, invested three dollars for every Federal dollar invested in adult education

Between 1985 and 1992, the increase in adult education funding averaged 15% annually; enrollment increases averaged 4.3%.

TRENDS PERSONNEL

Part-time instructors have always constituted a large share of the teaching activity in adult education. In 1980, part-time instructors comprised 71 percent of salaried teachers; in 1991, part-time instructors equaled 88 percent of the teaching force, an increase of 17 percentage points over the 11 year period. Table 2 summarizes the rapid expansion in the use of volunteers as tutors and aides since 1985.

PROGRAM YEAR 1991
ENROLLMENT

Over 3.7 million adults participated in the State-administered Adult Education program in 1991. This was an increase of 156,000 students over the previous year. As shown in Figure 6, enrollment was evenly distributed among the three instructional levels:

Adult Basic Education (ABE)	36%
English as a Second Language (ESL)	32%
Adult Secondary Education (ASE)	32%

The largest concentrations of adult education participants are located in the Western and Southern regions as shown in Figure 7. Adult learners in the two regions represent 68% of the total student population.

See Appendix 1 for State enrollment by Region.

Minorities Comprise Almost Two-thirds of Adult Education Enrollment

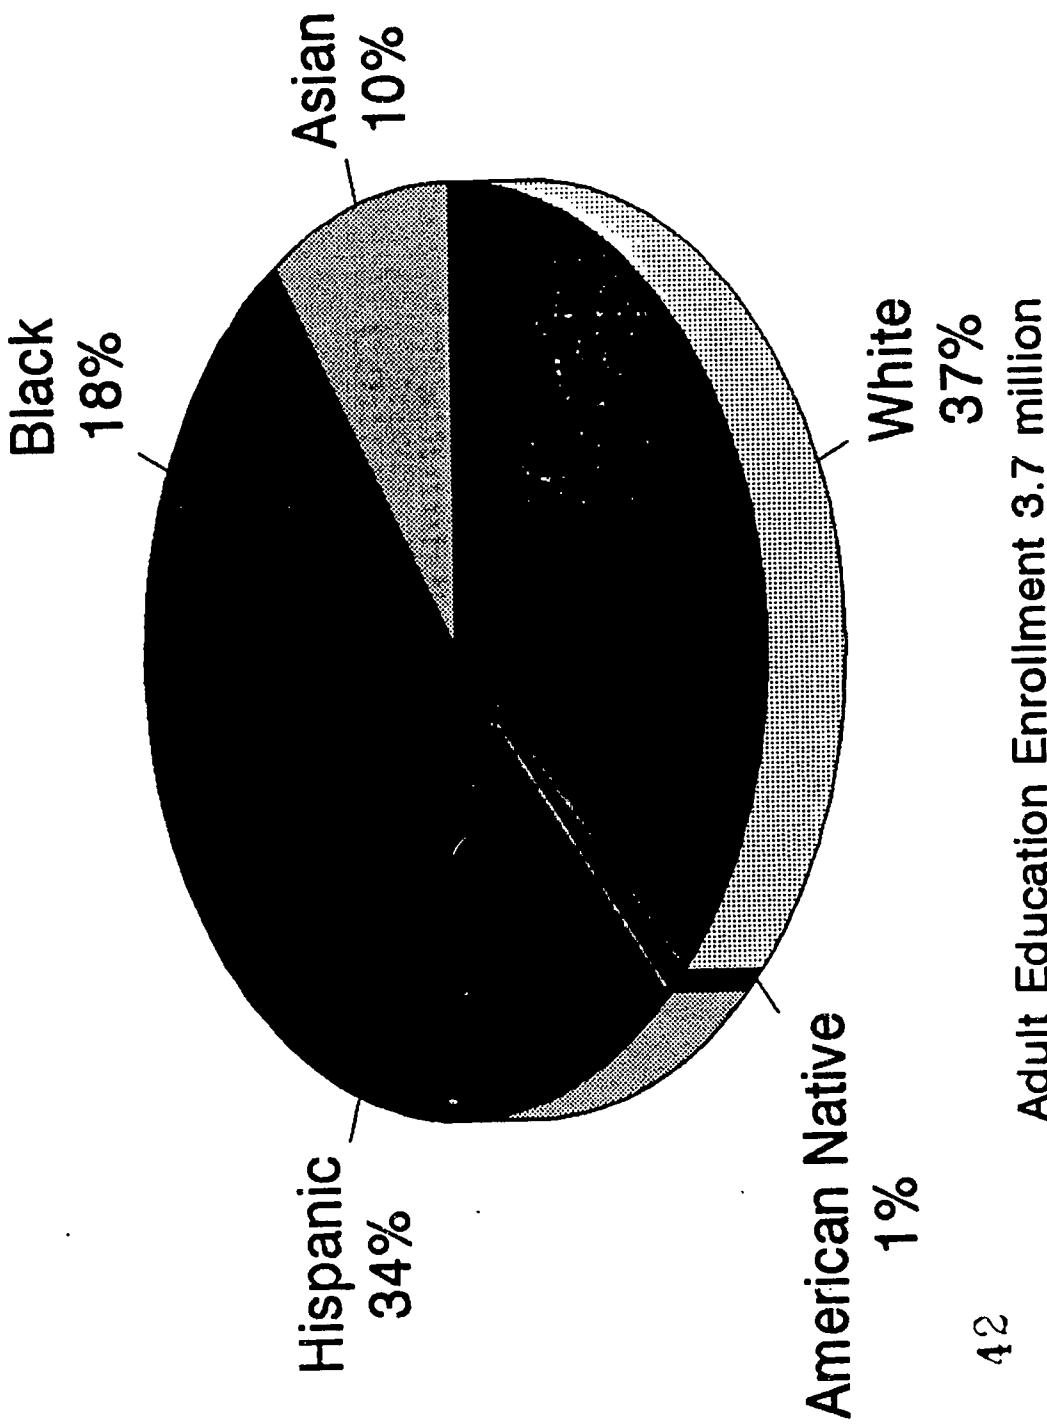

Figure 8

PROGRAM YEAR 1991
PARTICIPANT CHARACTERISTIC-ETHNICITY

Among the different ethnic groups Whites and Hispanics comprised a significantly higher number of total program participants, 37 percent and 34 percent, respectively. Blacks made up 18 percent, followed by Asians with 10 percent and American Natives with 1 percent.

White students made up the largest ethnic group in the ABE and ASE components while enrollees in the ESL component were largely Hispanic. Table 3 shows the distribution of ethnicity by instructional program.

During Program Year 1991 enrollees were largely between 16 and 24 years of age (37 percent) and 25-44 years of age (46 percent). The combined total is 83 percent of all participants.

The percentage of males and females enrolled in Adult Education programs were 48 percent and 52 percent, respectively. The table below shows the distribution of clients by age and gender.

Of the 47 States and outlying areas reporting, over 2.5 million adults completed an instructional level or continued in the program.

Other personal achievements include:

over 241,000 passed the GED test;
more than 209,000 gained employment or obtained job advancement;
another 53,000 were removed from public assistance registers.

PROGRAM YEAR 1991
SITES

A wide variety of locations were used to hold classes for the 3.7 million adult education participants during Program Year 1991. Of the total number of participants, 42 percent attended classes held in elementary/ secondary schools, primarily during the evening. Another 14 percent attended adult education classes at community colleges with most attending day classes.

Other locations included learning centers, correctional institutions, State/local institutions for the disabled, work sites, libraries and community-based organization centers. One percent of the participants were involved in homebased study. These locations and the number of participants who attended classes there are shown in Table 5.

FISCAL YEARS 1989
EXPENDITURES

With the FY 89 adult education basic grant appropriation, State and local agencies invested on average four dollars for every Federal dollar.

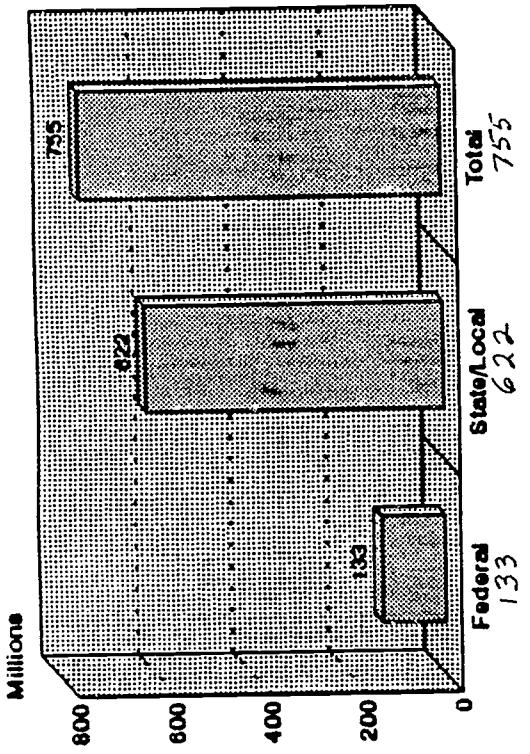

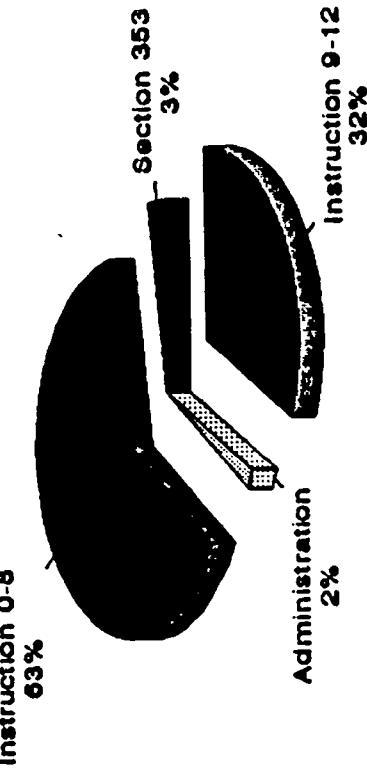

Figure 15

Ninety-five percent of adult education expenditures are for programs of instruction 0-12.

Figure 16

The most complete fiscal data available on the State-Administered Adult Education Basic Grants program is from the Fiscal Year 1989 appropriation. Fiscal Year 1989 funds were available for expenditure from July 1, 1989 through September 30, 1991. During that period, over $755 million were expended -- $133 million in Federal funds and $622 million in State and local contributions.

The table below shows actual Fiscal Year 1989 expenditures by program category.
